

FAIR TREATMENT OF OWNERS ASSURED

MODERN HOME SOLD TO E. G. YONKERS

The attractive new home just completed by Shannon & Luchs at 1440 Montague street was sold last week to E. G. Yonkers, vice president of the Sanitary Grocery Company. Mr. Yonkers will take possession at once. The home is modern in every detail and represents the last word in modern home planning.

PAYS $238,160 FOR SITE IN DOWNTOWN WASHINGTON

Joseph Ferrers has purchased the business property at 719-721 Fourteenth street for $238,160. The deed was signed by Thomas W. Hay, James B. Archer and Charles J. Murphy as substitute trustees under the last will of Columbus Archer.

SON OF ORIGINAL OWNER BUYS SITE FOR $40,000

The business property at 1736 Pennsylvania avenue, owned by the Angelo Ghiselli estate, was purchased last week by Frank E. Ghiselli, paying seller at the Commercial National Bank, at a consideration of $40,000.

Realities from the Real Estate Offices

CHARLES P. STONE is enjoying a two weeks' vacation from his work at Stone & Fairfax.

LEROY GADDIS, secretary of Allan E. Walker & Co., refuses to discuss the realty situation with us any more because when he does "his name always appears in the paper." That's no way to keep out of print, Mr. Gaddis.

R. O. EDMONSTON is back again at the Moore & Hill office after a very successful operation for the removal of his tonsils.

MRS. MAUDE P. HULL, of the Woman's Realty Exchange, reports that each day brings an increasing number of clients to this one of the city's most promising, real estate firms.

What other President most nearly approaches the present Chief Executive in the careful use of well chosen language? WILLIAM H. SAUNDERS believes that Garfield was the second best Presidential exponent of the correct in English and grammar.

JOSEPH D. SULLIVAN is again in the local real estate fold with his partner, ROBERT MAHONEY, after a year's service in the army.

HORNER BUILDING FINE NEW GARAGE

Stanley Horner has awarded the contract for the construction of a three-story fire-proof garage building on the east side of Fourteenth between K and L streets at a cost of approximately $300,000.

The building will be of the latest design in construction, and will be handsomely decorated. It will be used as the new home of the Buick agency.

The Fuller Construction Company has the contract for the building. Plans were drawn by Waddy Wood, the architect. The firm of Shannon & Luchs have arranged the financing of the enterprise, and they will be the exclusive rental agents for the property.
